1. Aims and scope

This policy aims to:

- Create a positive culture that promotes excellent behaviour, ensuring that all pupils have the opportunity to learn in a calm, safe and supportive environment
- Establish a whole-school approach to maintaining high standards of behaviour that reflect the values of the school
- Outline the expectations and consequences of behaviour
- Provide a consistent approach to behaviour management that is applied equally to all pupils
- Define what we consider to be unacceptable behaviour, including bullying and discrimination

2. Legislation, statutory requirements and guidance

This policy is based on legislation and advice from the Department for Education (DfE) on:

- Behaviour in schools: advice for Headteachers and school staff
- Searching, screening and confiscation: advice for schools
- The Equality Act 2010
- Keeping Children Safe in Education
- https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/school-exclusion
- Suspension and permanent exclusion from maintained schools, academies and pupil referral units
- Restrictive interventions, including the use of reasonable force, in schools
- Supporting pupils with medical conditions at school
- Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND) Code of Practice
- Sharing nudes and semi-nudes: advice for education settings working with children and young people
- Mobile phones in schools - GOV.UK

In addition, this policy is based on:

- Schedule 1 of the Education (Independent School Standards) Regulations 2014; paragraph 7 outlines a school's duty to safeguard and promote the welfare of children, paragraph 9 requires the school to have a written behaviour policy, and paragraph 10 requires the school to have an anti-bullying strategy
- DfE guidance, which explains that academies should publish their behaviour policy and anti-bullying strategy

This policy complies with our funding agreement and articles of association.

3. Behaviour – Trust statement of principles

As a Church of England Trust, we believe that every child is made in the unique image of God with their own unique talents and strengths. In our schools, we aim to find these in every pupil so that they can flourish and thrive as God intended, 'living life in all its fulness' (John 10:10).

As a Trust, we have a duty to keep all adults and pupils safe. Our schools promote clear and consistent expectations to pupils which promote the safety and welfare of all and at all times; this is a crucial part of our culture of safety and care for every adult and pupil.

In our schools we care about every pupil and want them to feel safe so that their learning potential and feelings of self-worth are optimised. We do this by always striving to create school environments that are calm, kind, welcoming and where strong, positive relationships exist between adults and pupils and a culture of unconditional positive regard is in place.

The purpose of our schools is to provide a first-class education to all pupils because we believe that every child has the power to achieve. It is also to guide, protect, support and nurture pupils, helping them to make the right choices and when this does not happen, to help them put that right and to be forgiven by others as well as forgive themselves.

In our schools we want all pupils to be guided by the intrinsic motivation to do the right thing because it is the right thing to do, rather than by incentive or rewards and equally that consequences, rather than punishments are given. Consequences are proportionate, reasonable and aim to restore harmony so that pupils can learn well from their mistakes, and these may well look different for different children. However, we appreciate that this takes time and so schools will make those choices for the children in their care, over time, so that the ultimate position of rewards replaced by praise, responsibility, and acknowledgement of effort beyond the expected, is the destination.

We know, at times, that some pupils will make poor choices but, in our schools, we aim to make the very best endeavours to understand the reasons that sit behind this behaviour, demonstrating unconditional, positive regard for all pupils, no matter what. We will display empathy, patience and respect for pupils, even if, at the time, they are not able to show it to us because we believe in showing them good role models, role models that may help them to regulate their behaviours as they grow, in order to reduce conflict and to help them be happy individuals.

We believe in the value of Equity in all that we do. This means that we aim to give children what they need which means that sometimes, the provision for children may look different but we believe that this is the right approach to support all children to be the best that they can be. At a school level, this may mean that there are adaptations and flexibilities to the Behaviour Policy for some children, sometimes, and especially for those children who may struggle to regulate their behaviour or who have additional needs.

4. Definitions

5. Mobile Phones

In accordance with the DFE statutory guidance, all schools should be mobile phone-free environments by default; anything other than this should be by exception only. The link to this guidance can be found by following this link Mobile phones in schools - GOV.UK

Each school has its own guidance for how they prohibit the use of mobile phones and other smart technology with similar functionality to mobile phones (for example, the ability to send and/or receive notifications or messages via mobile phone networks or the ability to record audio and/or video) throughout the school day, including during lessons, the time between lessons, breaktimes and lunchtime. For further information, please refer to the school's guidance in Appendix 6.

6. Bullying

Bullying is defined as the repetitive, intentional harming of one person or group by another person or group, where the relationship involves an imbalance of power.

Bullying is, therefore:

- Deliberately hurtful

- The expected standard of behaviour they should be displaying at school

- The school's key rules and routines
- The rewards they can earn for meeting the behaviour standards, and the logical consequences they will face if they don't meet the standards
- The pastoral support available to them to help them meet the behaviour standards
- Pupils will be supported to meet the behaviour standards and will be provided with repeated induction sessions wherever appropriate.
- Pupils will be supported to develop an understanding of school's behaviour policy and wider culture.
- Pupils will be asked to give feedback on their experience of the behaviour culture to support the evaluation, improvement and implementation of the behaviour policy.

Extra support and induction will be provided for pupils who are mid-phase arrivals.

8. School Behaviour Curriculum

All schools are expected to explicitly teach behaviour as we would any other area of the curriculum, in line with the Trust Behaviour Principles (see Section 3). Standardised materials are available around key elements of behaviour education and schools are free to adapt and evolve these materials to explicitly teach key themes, patterns and trends that emerge over time.

8.1 Trust Expectations for Pupil Behaviour

Pupils across all schools in the Trust are expected to:

- Demonstrate self-discipline by behaving in a calm, orderly, and self-controlled manner at all times
- Show respect and kindness towards all members of the school community, including staff, pupils, and visitors
- Follow instructions promptly and cooperate fully with staff to maintain a positive environment
- Engage positively in learning, contributing to a calm, focused classroom where all pupils are able to learn without disruption
- Arrive punctually and attend regularly, equipped and ready to learn
- Persevere and take pride in their work, striving to achieve their best at all times
- Move safely and sensibly around the school site, showing consideration for others
- Act responsibly and safely, following all health and safety expectations
- Respect the school environment by treating buildings, equipment, and property with care
- Wear the correct uniform and present themselves appropriately at all times

- Take responsibility for their behaviour, accepting logical consequences when given and reflecting on their actions
- Maintain high standards of conduct beyond the school, including when travelling, in the local community, and online, ensuring they do not bring the school into disrepute
- Promote a positive school culture, showing pride in their school and celebrating the success of others
- Respect diversity and inclusion, valuing differences and treating everyone fairly
- Support the wellbeing and safety of others by reporting concerns, including bullying or unsafe behaviour, to a Trusted adult

8.2 School Rules

Each school has clear and consistent rules, developed by school leaders and staff and in line with our commitment to Unconditional Positive Regard. The agreed school rules are also aligned with the school's vision and values. We are dedicated to ensuring that all pupils achieve their very best, both academically and personally. Through a values-based approach to education, pupils are supported to develop respect, responsibility, resilience, empathy and integrity, enabling them to become positive and active members of their communities.

By explicitly teaching the school's rules, routines and expectations, we help children understand the importance of boundaries and the role they play in creating safe, inclusive and successful environments. This supports pupils in developing a strong understanding of the Fundamental British Values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty, and mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs. In doing so, we prepare children not only for success in school but also for life beyond education and their future role in society.

Please refer to Appendix 3 for our school specific rules.

8.3 Inclusion and Support

We are committed to ensuring all pupils can meet these expectations. Where appropriate and reasonable, adjustments will be made to support individual needs and enable every pupil to succeed.

9. Unconditional Positive Regard and Relational Practice

9.1 Unconditional Positive Regard

Across our schools, we adopt an approach based on unconditional positive regard, ensuring that all pupils receive a consistent and supportive response to their behaviour. This means that, regardless of their actions, every child is treated with respect, dignity, and care, and staff respond in ways that are appropriate and responsive to individual needs.

This approach creates an environment where pupils can thrive, characterised by:

- Genuineness – staff are open, authentic, and communicate appropriately
- Acceptance – every pupil is valued and treated with unconditional respect
- Empathy – pupils feel listened to, understood, and supported

Central to this approach is relational consistency. All staff are committed to fostering positive, predictable relationships, ensuring that pupils experience a calm, nurturing, and consistent response in all interactions.

We recognise that pupils may experience challenges throughout their school journey. During these times, it is essential that they feel supported and understood. This approach reinforces the belief that:

- every day is a fresh start
- every lesson is a new opportunity
- every incident presents a chance for reflection, learning, and positive change

To further support this ethos, we embed restorative practices across our schools. Staff use structured and consistent restorative approaches to address behaviour, ensuring that all incidents are managed fairly, respectfully, and in a way that promotes accountability, reflection, and personal development.

Schools will ensure all staff are trained in the use of Unconditional Positive Regard and Relational Practice. All schools have access to Level 3 practitioners across the Trust to support training, as required.

9.2 Restorative Practice: The 4 Rs Approach

Underpinned by unconditional positive regard, our approach to behaviour enables us to effectively support pupils who may find it difficult to regulate their emotions or communicate their needs appropriately.

We share a collective commitment to ensuring that all pupils feel safe, supported, and understood within our care.

To achieve this, we adopt a consistent, research-informed approach known as 'The 4 Rs', which provides a clear and structured framework for restorative conversations and effective behaviour support.

The 4 Rs

- REGULATE – supporting the pupil to calm and manage their emotional response (e.g. fight, flight, or freeze)
- RELATE – building connection through a calm, attuned, and empathetic interaction
- REASON – supporting the pupil to reflect on their behaviour, understand its impact, and consider alternative choices
- REPAIR – restoring relationships and supporting the pupil to move forward positively

This approach ensures that pupils are not only supported in the moment but are also guided to develop the emotional awareness and skills needed for future success.

9.3 Restorative Conversations in Practice

A restorative conversation is a structured and supportive discussion that helps pupils reflect on their behaviour, understand its impact on themselves and others, and take appropriate steps to repair any harm caused. It emphasises learning, accountability, and the rebuilding of relationships, rather than focusing solely on punishment.

Restorative conversations are guided by the '4 Rs' framework—Regulate, Relate, Reason, and Repair—which provides a clear structure for supporting pupils through reflection, understanding, and positive change.

- Phase 1: Regulate and Relate
  (e.g. "Can you tell me what happened?" "How were you feeling?")
  During this phase, staff prioritise helping the pupil to feel calm and safe. Time and space may be provided to support emotional regulation before discussion begins. Staff use a non-judgemental approach, showing empathy, patience, and understanding while encouraging pupils to share their perspective.

- Phase 2: Reason
  (e.g. "What were you needing at that moment?" "What could you do differently next time?")
  Staff support pupils to reflect on the situation and identify possible triggers or unmet needs. Through guided discussion, pupils are helped to understand the impact of their behaviour and to consider more positive ways of responding in the future.

  Where needed, staff will model appropriate responses and provide clear guidance, recognising that pupils may still be developing the social and emotional skills required.

- Phase 3: Repair
  (e.g. "How can we put this right?" "What are your next steps?")
  The focus of this phase is on repairing relationships and restoring Trust. Pupils are supported to take responsibility and consider how their actions have affected others. Together, staff and pupils agree on meaningful actions to make amends and move forward positively.

  Follow-up support and check-ins are used to ensure that relationships remain strong and that the pupil feels supported in maintaining positive behaviour.

9.4 Impact and Consistency

By embedding the 4 Rs approach across our schools, we ensure that:

- Behaviour is addressed consistently and fairly
- Pupils feel listened to, understood, and supported
- Relationships remain central to behaviour management
- Pupils develop the skills needed to regulate, reflect, and make positive choices

This shared approach promotes a culture of respect, accountability, and continuous growth across the Trust.

10. Responding to Behaviour

10.1 Classroom management

Teaching and support staff play a key role in establishing and maintaining a positive learning environment. They are responsible for setting clear expectations and creating the conditions in which all pupils can succeed.

Staff will:

- Create and maintain a purposeful learning environment that is engaging, well-organised, and conducive to learning
- Make expectations explicit by displaying and referring to the behaviour curriculum and/or agreed classroom rules
- Establish clear routines that support consistency, structure, and smooth transitions throughout the day
- Build positive relationships with pupils, rooted in respect, consistency, and unconditional positive regard

This may include:

- Greeting pupils at the start of the day or lesson to establish a positive tone
- Communicating expectations clearly using a range of strategies (e.g. visual cues, modelling, non-verbal signals)
- Actively recognising and reinforcing positive behaviour
- Planning and responding consistently to low-level disruption to prevent escalation
- Ending lessons or the day on a positive note and reinforcing a fresh start approach

10.2 Responding to Positive Conduct

When a pupil consistently demonstrates or exemplifies the school's behaviour principles and rules, staff will recognise this through meaningful praise and reward. This provides an opportunity to reinforce the culture, values, and expectations that underpin the school community.

Recognition will be applied consistently, fairly, and purposefully to reinforce the routines, expectations, and shared norms that support a positive learning environment.

Please refer to Appendix 4 for how pupils who model the school's behaviour principles and rules may be recognised.

10.3 Supporting Behaviour

When a pupil's behaviour falls below the expected standard, staff will respond in a way that prioritises support, restores a calm and safe environment, and helps the pupil to make positive changes.

Staff will create a predictable and consistent environment by addressing behaviour in a calm, fair, and proportionate manner. This ensures pupils understand that expectations are consistently upheld and that they will be supported to meet them.

A focus will be placed on understanding the reasons behind behaviour, recognising that behaviour is a form of communication. Staff will take into account any contributing factors, including individual needs and vulnerabilities, when deciding on appropriate responses.

De-escalation strategies will be used to prevent situations from escalating. This may include the use of planned scripts, calm communication, and adjustments to support pupils in regulating their behaviour.

Staff will consider what support is needed to help the pupil improve, alongside any logical consequences. This may include:

- Restorative conversations using the 4 Rs framework
- Additional adult support or check-ins
- Adjustments to routines or learning approaches
- Pastoral or targeted interventions
- Referral to appropriate school staff (e.g. SENCO, DSL, or pastoral lead) where needed

Where logical consequences are used, they will be meaningful, proportionate, and focused on reflection and learning. These may include:

- A verbal reminder of expectations
- Time for reflection or completion of work
- Temporary removal from a situation to support learning or regulation
- Loss of privileges or responsibilities
- Communication with parents/carers
- Behaviour monitoring (e.g. report systems)

In more serious cases, responses may include involvement of senior staff, suspension, or permanent exclusion.

Decisions will always take into account the individual circumstances of the pupil, ensuring that responses are fair, appropriate, and supportive, whilst maintaining high expectations for all.

10.4 Graduated Response: Stepped Approach to Behaviour Support

Across the Trust, schools will implement a graduated and supportive response to behaviour. This provides structure and consistency while allowing flexibility to meet the needs of individual pupils and contexts.

In-line with Trust principles, the stepped approach in our school can be seen in Appendix 5.

10.5 Restrictive Interventions

Our approach to restrictive interventions is guided by the Department for Education's (DfE) current guidance on the use of reasonable force and restrictive interventions.

Restrictive interventions refer to actions—both physical and non-physical—that are used to prevent, restrict, or manage a pupil's movement, in order to reduce the risk of harm to themselves or others.

We recognise that any use of force or restraint carries potential risks, including physical and psychological harm. As such, our approach is rooted in prevention, de-escalation, and relational practice, and restrictive interventions are used only as a last resort, when all other appropriate strategies have been exhausted.

Staff are trained to assess risk, respond proportionately, and act in the best interests, safety, and dignity of the pupil at all times. Any use of restrictive intervention will be reasonable, proportionate, and necessary, in line with statutory guidance.

For further information, please refer to Use of Restrictive Interventions Policy.

10.6 Searching, screening and confiscation

Our approach to Searching, Screening and Confiscation is guided by the Department for Education's (DfE) current guidance on Searching, Screening and Confiscation.

Principles for searching, screening and confiscation (taken directly from the published guidance above) can be seen in the table below. For more detailed information, please follow the DfE guidance via the link.

Core Principle	Key Requirements
Legal Authority	Searches are authorised under the Education Acts (1996, 2006) and related regulations; must align with DfE guidance.
Reasonable Suspicion / Consent	Staff must either obtain pupil consent or have reasonable grounds to suspect possession of prohibited items.
Authorised Staff Only	Searches must be carried out by staff designated by the Headteacher or senior leaders.
Respect & Privacy	Searches should be proportionate, conducted respectfully, in a private space, by same-sex staff, with a witness present.
Scope of Search	Includes bags and pockets; strip searches are only allowed by police under strict procedures.
Safeguarding Focus	Searching may reveal wider safeguarding concerns and should prompt appropriate liaison with DSL or external agencies.
Record-Keeping	All searches must be recorded: who searched, reason, outcome, any confiscations and follow-up actions via CPOMS.
Parental Notification	Schools must inform a parent or carer about searches and their outcomes when appropriate.
Confiscation Policies	Prohibited items must be confiscated; schools can also remove items that threaten discipline or safety.

10.7 Off-site Misbehaviour

Sanctions may be applied where a pupil has misbehaved off-site when representing the school. This means misbehaviour when the pupil is:

- Taking part in any school-organised or school-related activity (e.g. school trips)
- Travelling to or from school
- Wearing school uniform
- In any other way identifiable as a pupil of our school

Sanctions may also be applied where a pupil has misbehaved off-site, at any time, whether or not the conditions above apply, if the misbehaviour:

- Could have repercussions for the orderly running of the school
- Poses a threat to another pupil
- Could adversely affect the reputation of the school

10.8 Online Misbehaviour

The school can issue behaviour sanctions to pupils for online misbehaviour when:

- It poses a threat or causes harm to another pupil
- It could have repercussions for the orderly running of the school
- It adversely affects the reputation of the school
- The pupil is identifiable as a member of the school

11. Serious Sanctions

11.1 Suspected criminal behaviour

If a pupil is suspected of criminal behaviour, the school will make an initial assessment of whether to report the incident to the police.

When establishing the facts, the school will endeavour to preserve any relevant evidence to hand over to the police.

If a decision is made to report the matter to the police, the Headteacher or most senior member of the senior leadership team will make the report.

The school will not interfere with any police action taken. However, the school may continue to follow its own investigation procedure and enforce sanctions, as long as it does not conflict with police action.

If a report to the police is made, the designated safeguarding lead (DSL) will make a tandem report to children's social care, if appropriate.

11.2 Zero-tolerance approach to sexual harassment and sexual violence

The school will ensure that all incidents of sexual harassment and/or violence are met with a suitable response, and never ignored.

Pupils are encouraged to report anything that makes them uncomfortable, no matter how 'small' they feel it might be.

The school's response will be:

- Proportionate
- Considered
- Supportive
- Decided on a case-by-case basis

The school has procedures in place to respond to any allegations or concerns regarding a child's safety or wellbeing. These include clear processes for:

- Responding to a report
- Carrying out risk assessments, where appropriate, to help determine whether to:
- Manage the incident internally
- Refer to early help
- Refer to children's social care
- Report to the police

Please refer to the school's Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy for more information.

11.3 Malicious allegations

Where a pupil makes an allegation against a member of staff and that allegation is shown to have been deliberately invented or malicious, the school will consider whether to discipline the pupil in accordance with this policy.

Where a pupil makes an allegation of sexual violence or sexual harassment against another pupil and that allegation is shown to have been deliberately invented or malicious, the school will consider whether to discipline the pupil in accordance with this policy.

In all cases where an allegation is determined to be unsubstantiated, unfounded, false or malicious, the school (in collaboration with the local authority designated officer (LADO), where relevant) will consider whether the pupil who made the allegation is in need of help, or the allegation may have been a cry for help. If so, a referral to children's social care may be appropriate.

The school will also consider the pastoral needs of staff and pupils accused of misconduct.

Please refer to our Managing Allegations Against Staff Policy for more information on responding to allegations of abuse against staff or other pupils.

Serious sanctions

11.4 Suspension and permanent exclusion

The school can use suspension and permanent exclusion in response to serious incidents or in response to persistent poor behaviour which has not improved following in-school sanctions and interventions.

The decision to suspend or exclude will be made by the Headteacher and only as a last resort. In the first instance and prior to a decision being made, advice and guidance should be sought from the school's Education Development Advisor or the Director of Education.

Please refer to our Exclusions Policy which is published on each school's website.

12. Safeguarding

Schools in our Trust recognise that behaviour can be an important indicator of a pupil's wellbeing and safety.

We acknowledge that:

- Changes in a pupil's behaviour may signal that they are in need of help or protection
- Individual circumstances—such as being a young carer, a looked-after child, or living within a vulnerable or challenging context—can have a significant impact on behaviour
- Instances of misbehaviour may be linked to a pupil experiencing, or being at risk of, harm

Where concerns arise, we will carefully consider whether a pupil's behaviour may indicate a safeguarding need. In such cases, staff will respond in line with the school's Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy.

This may include providing pastoral support, initiating early help intervention, or making a referral to children's social care, as appropriate.

For further guidance, please refer to the school's Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy.

13. Responding to Misbehaviour from Pupils With SEND

13.1 Recognising the impact of SEND on behaviour

The school recognises that pupils' behaviour may be impacted by a special educational need or disability (SEND). Pupils with SEND may react to distressing or confusing situations by displaying behaviours which may be harmful to themselves and others. Pupils who have difficulty communicating verbally might show their needs and discomfort through their actions.

When incidents of misbehaviour arise, we will consider them in relation to a pupil's SEND, although we recognise that not every incident of misbehaviour will be connected to their SEND. Decisions on whether a pupil's SEND had an impact on an incident of misbehaviour will be made on a case-by-case basis.

When dealing with misbehaviour from pupils with SEND, especially where their SEND affects their behaviour, the school will take its legal duties into account when making decisions about enforcing the behaviour policy. The legal duties include:

- Taking reasonable steps to avoid any substantial disadvantage to a disabled pupil being caused by the school's policies or practices (Equality Act 2010)
- Using our best endeavours to meet the needs of pupils with SEND (Children and Families Act 2014)
- If a pupil has an education, health and care (EHC) plan, the provisions set out in that plan must be secured and the school must co-operate with the local authority and other bodies

As a part of meeting these duties, the school will anticipate, as far as possible, all likely triggers of misbehaviour, and put in place support, including behaviour support plans where appropriate, to prevent these from occurring.

We will utilise staff who know individual pupils with SEND well to:

- Help identify and manage risk, such as trigger points when challenging behaviour is more likely to occur
- Develop proactive strategies to reduce the likelihood of restrictive interventions being used

- We will also work with the pupil, their parents/carers and other professionals to develop prevention and de-escalation strategies.

Any preventative measure will take into account the specific circumstances and requirements of the pupil concerned.

13.2 Adapting sanctions for pupils with SEND
When considering a sanction for a pupil with SEND, the school will consider whether:
- The pupil understood the rule, instruction or expectation.
- The pupil was able to regulate or modify their behaviour at the time.
- The behaviour may have arisen as a result of the pupil's SEND.
- Any reasonable adjustments or support should be considered before a sanction is imposed.

The school may still apply sanctions where appropriate, but will take account of its duties under the Equality Act 2010 and the individual circumstances of the pupil.

13.3 Considering whether a pupil displaying challenging behaviour may have unidentified SEND
The school's special educational needs co-ordinator (SENDCO) will evaluate a pupil who exhibits challenging behaviour to determine whether they have any underlying needs that are not currently being met.

Where necessary, support and advice will also be sought from specialist teachers, an educational psychologist, medical practitioners and/or others, to identify or support specific needs.

When acute needs are identified in a pupil, we will liaise with external agencies and plan support programmes for that child. We will work with parents/carers to create the plan and review it on a regular basis.

13.4 Pupils with an education, health and care (EHC) plan
The provisions set out in the EHC plan must be secured and the school will co-operate with the local authority and other bodies.
If the school has a concern about the behaviour of a pupil with an EHC plan, it will make contact with the local authority to discuss the matter. If appropriate, the school may request an emergency review of the EHC plan.

14. Monitoring Arrangements

14.1 Recording and Reporting behaviour
Behaviour incidents within Stages 3-5 of the Graduated Response: Stepped Approach to Behaviour Support (See Appendix 5) must be recorded on CPOMS adhering to the Trust CPOMS Guidance.

14.2 Monitoring and evaluating behaviour
School Leaders will analyse patterns and trends of behaviour on a regular basis (at least fortnightly) and consider what actions need to be taken as a result of this analysis. Content from this analysis may also inform Caseload Supervision Meetings.

A report will also be provided to Academy Committees three times per year as part of the Head Teachers report to Governors.

15. Links with other policies

Appendix 3: Written Statement of School Rules at The Wainfleet Magdalen Church of England/ Methodist Primary School

At The Magdalen Church of England / Methodist Primary School, our behaviour expectations are rooted in our vision:

"Inspired by William Waynflete and John Wesley, we have a vision to be an aspirational school delivering excellence in learning by being creative, inclusive and resilient so that we can all serve in God's world to the best of our ability."
We promote the Christian values of:

- Peace
- Hope
- Humility
- Service
- Forgiveness
- Thankfulness
- Friendship
- Compassion
- Trust
- Justice

At The Magdalen School we believe that every child should be known, valued and understood. Our approach is informed by Genesis 16:13:

"You are the God who sees me."

We seek to ensure every pupil feels seen, heard and supported whilst maintaining high expectations for behaviour and conduct.

It is important that pupils understand that we have high expectations for behaviour and are clear about what these behaviours look like in practice. We are all responsible for creating a culture where everyone feels safe, valued, respected and able to learn.

At The Magdalen School, we recognise that behaviour is a form of communication. Whilst we maintain high expectations, we seek to understand any underlying needs, barriers or circumstances that may be influencing behaviour so that appropriate support can be provided. Whilst we maintain high expectations, we seek first to understand what a child may be communicating through their behaviour. Staff will consider potential unmet needs, trauma experiences, attachment difficulties, SEND needs, anxiety, sensory needs and environmental factors before determining the most appropriate support.

Whenever possible, staff will seek connection before correction. Positive relationships are the foundation of positive behaviour. Staff will work to maintain pupils' dignity, preserve relationships and support reflection whilst ensuring accountability for behaviour.

Consequences will be logical, educational and protective. They are intended to keep everyone safe, repair harm and support future success rather than punish. Examples may include repairing damaged property, completing missed learning, restorative conversations or structured reflection.

Some pupils may experience differences in communication, social understanding, executive functioning, sensory processing or emotional regulation. Reasonable adjustments may include adapted expectations, visual supports, sensory regulation opportunities, movement breaks, alternative communication methods or adjusted environments.

We recognise that adverse childhood experiences, trauma and attachment difficulties can impact behaviour, emotional regulation and relationships. Staff will respond with curiosity, empathy and consistency whilst maintaining clear boundaries and expectations.

At The Magdalen School we strive to be:

- Ready
- Respectful
- Safe

These expectations help us to live out our Christian vision and values and create a school where everyone can flourish.

Appendix 4: How Pupils Who Model the School's Behaviour Principles and Rules May Be Recognised.

We believe positive recognition and strong relationships are the most effective way to promote positive behaviour and a culture of belonging.

Appendix 5: Graduated Response: Stepped Approach to Behaviour Support

At The Magdalen School we recognise that behaviour is a form of communication. Whilst maintaining high expectations, staff seek to understand what may be driving behaviour and support pupils to regulate, reflect and repair relationships. Responses will be proportionate, restorative and focused on helping children succeed.

Behaviour support at The Magdalen School is informed by Maslow's Hierarchy of Needs. We recognise that children's physiological, safety, belonging and emotional needs must be considered when supporting behaviour. Where concerns arise, staff will seek to understand underlying unmet needs and put appropriate support in place.

Staff will consider whether a pupil requires regulation, support or correction. Where pupils are experiencing emotional distress, sensory overload or dysregulation, supportive strategies will be used before restorative conversations or consequences are applied.

The level of support provided will be determined by the nature, frequency and severity of a pupil's needs. Our aim is always to understand the reasons behind behaviour, remove barriers to success and provide the appropriate level of support to enable every child to flourish.

We seek to maintain the highest expectations whilst recognising that children may need different levels of support to achieve them
